Molakoe?

Ben Gaskell

Molakoe offer a range of design services from logo or packaging artwork to CSS and web design. Professional standards and close links with clients set Molakoe apart from other London based designers and help to create an environment that not only means I can design to your needs but also beyond so that you can stand above others in your field. Whilst I am based in London I also take on national and international work using all of the latest technologies to create clean and dynamic designs that will wow your target audience.
